

Success!

Date: May 2010

Name: Jim

Condition: Arm pain/finger
numbness

Shooting pain down my left arm and numbness in my fingers is not a good combination for a high school teacher!! Ignoring only works for a while, you know, hoping the “kinks” work themselves out and everything returns to normal.

After 4 months of the regular route, x-rays and physical therapy, I tried chiropractic, even though most people think of that as just a “back” thing.

What I like most about the care I received is...IT WORKS!
There is no more pain and numbness and my arm has regained its strength!

My advice to you....”Do it sooner than later.”
